TERRIBLE PROPHECY.

AN OLD INDIAN MEDICINE MAN

PREDICTS DISASTER.

Breat Earthquake Shocks-The Shores of the Sea Win Sink-Whole Cities Will be Swallowed Up.

FORT SILL, I. T., Aug. 26 .- The Comanche

Indians on West Cache creek are greatly excited by the predictions made by one of their number, Howling Bear, an old med-their number, Howling Bear, an old incol-cine man who enjoys great repute among members of the tribe. Howling Bear is one of the oldest Indians in the Territory, and it is confidently asserted that he has long passed the century mark. For over fifty years he has been the head medicine man of the tribe, and as no Indian can be a medicine man until he is fifty years old, this would bear out the assertion that he is now over a hundred. He speaks of events which occurred fully a hundred years ago.

which occurred fully a hundred years ago, and says he witnessed them. In appear-ance he is tall and has silver gray hair. He is very spare and his sidn has the appear-are of being stack tightly to his bones, taking him look like a living skeleton. About two weeks ago he went into retirement, as he has been accustomed to do ast before becoming prophetic. He claims that while in this retirement he is filled with a knowledge of things in the past and future, and can see what will happen for feture, and can see what will happen for several years to come. About two years are he gave his last prediction, and every incident which he foretold came to pass. He then said there would be great excitement among the Indians about a big medicine man who would come from the North, but that he would do no great to the Indians.

that he would do no good to the Indians. This was followed by the Messiah and ghost dance craze. He said that great thous would come and to make the control of the control ods would come and do much camage, and this was followed by a great water spout which almost annihilated the berds along Cache creek. Many other predictions of a dire disasters which he now predicts are soon to overwhelm the entire country. Howling Bear claims to have been present when the great earthquake changed the ap-pearance of Southeast Missouri, and he says that a worse shaking up is in store for all who live here. He came from his retire-that he has not long to live.

The prediction as given brings terror to the hearts of the Indians, for they have implicit faith in his prognostications. He says first there will be slight shakings in all parts of the country. In some sections the mountains will fall down and others will rise up in their places. Rivers will be dried up and lakes and streams come where water has never been streams come where water has never been known before. Much sickness will come all over the land and then big storms, the like of which have never been known. The slight earthquakes will be followed by severer ones, and then will come a most dreadful disaster which will bring woe to the whole country. The shores of the sea will sink and white men will be drowned by the thousands. The Indians will not be so much troubled, for they will be away from the place where the worst is to come.

from the place where the worst is to come. The land will open and whole cities will be swallowed up. Fire will break forth from the center of the earth and rivers of fire will run where water now is. The people who live west of the big river (Mississippi).

and east of the big mountains (Rockies) will have less trouble and danger than any one else, but those who live in the far East and far West will have to fly for their lives. Where the big river empties into the ocean the whole land will be swal-lowed up and everything will be destroyed.

In the middle of the big ocean will come land where land has not been seen before. Howling Bear evidently believes in his ewn predictions, and says that before all this comes to pass he will be gone and will not see it. He says that before the year is out he will die, and then the first great trouble will come to the people. He warns the Indians to stay where they are and not travel East or West until after they see that these things have happened. When asked when these great disasters would come, he answered, sententiously, "Maybe soon, maybe ten years."

East St. Louis, ILL., Aug. 26 .- A party of distinguished capitalists are visiting here with a view to the purchase of Nelson Morris' meat plant. Among them are two prominent cattle raisers one from Montana, the other is one of the largest cattle raisers in the state of Texas. The negotiations contemplate the investment of over $1,000,000. If carried into effect the deal will probably be equally interesting to Western and Southwestern cattle growers generally. Nelson Morris' plant is one of the largest dressed meat concerns in the world. Its average daily capacity is over 1000 head of cattle, to say nothing of the bars. Not loss than 300 men are engaged. hogs. Not less than 300 men are engaged there the year around preparing and pack-ing meats for the markets, much of the pro-duct being shipped into the Southwest, even to Texas, where the slaughtered beeves were raised.
